

Business Development and Marketing Manager, Australian Ecosystems Nursery

- Competitive Salary
- Perfect Work/ life balance
- Join a secure, trusted and thriving company during these unprecedented times

Australian Ecosystems (AE) are an award winning integrated sustainable landscape company with nursery, design, construction, and maintenance divisions. We seek the services of a skilled Nursery Business Development and Marketing Manager to work with our nursery team to help appraise new opportunities, improve processes and build our business. The successful applicant will help us streamline nursery processes, build sales in existing and emerging markets in biodiversity restoration, sustainable landscapes, urban farming, public landscapes and resilient cities.

We seek a self-motivated, sales and customer service focused business development manager to assist us to build sales at our wholesale nursery at Carrum, South East Melbourne, with regular visits to a rooftop nursery site to be opened at Melbourne Skyfarm at Docklands in 2021.

You will preferably have at least 5 years experience and a successful track record in a sales or business development position in a commercial nursery or horticultural industry, and have good IT and financial management skills. The position attracts an attractive remuneration package, available upon application.
